				the ECB Payment Statistics Regulation (hereinafter the ECB Regulation), in line with the EBA's efforts. Moreover, the CNB has decided to start collecting the data under the Revised ECB Regulation by 1. 1. 2022 since the reporting systems of the CNB should be prepared for automated processing of standardized reporting by that date. The necessary legislative proceedings (in particular the issuance of an implementing decree) should be completed by 1. 1. 2022 as well. Such a coherent approach with regard to fraud reporting will also have a positive effect on the costs of implementing these requirements that are to be borne by payment service providers. The CNB will therefore not require payment service providers to report data for 2020 and 2021 in the extent specified by the Guidelines. First reporting of granular data according to the Guidelines from payment service providers to the CNB will happen in 2022 (for data related to the first half of 2022); it will be aggregated by the CNB as per the Guidelines and forwarded to the EBA and the ECB. The CNB is at the moment (on a yearly basis) manually collecting a certain set of data from payment service providers in order to fulfil the requirement of Art 96(6) PSD2. This set of 10 data points includes the number of payment transactions executed and the number of fraudulent payment transactions in 4 categories (credit transfers, direct debits card payments and other payment transactions) as well as the total number of payment transactions and fraudulent payment transactions. This data has been provided to the EBA and ECB in an
