The Authority

The European Banking Authority (“EBA”) is an independent European Union Authority established on 1 January 2011 by Regulation (EU) No. 1093/2010 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 24 November 2010.<sup>2</sup>

The Mission

With a view to improving the functioning of the European Union internal market, the EBA contributes to ensuring a high quality, effective and consistent level of regulation and supervision in its areas of competence. It also promotes public values such as the stability of the financial system, the transparency of markets and financial products, and the protection of depositors and investors.

It works to prevent regulatory arbitrage and guarantee a level playing field, strengthens international supervisory coordination, promotes supervisory convergence and provides advice to the Union institutions in the areas of banking, payments and e-money regulation and supervision, and related corporate governance, auditing and financial reporting issues.

As an integral part of the European System of Financial Supervision (ESFS), the EBA works closely together with her sister authorities, the European Insurance and Occupational Pensions Authority (EIOPA) and the European Securities Market Authorities (ESMA), as well as the Joint Committee and the European Systemic Risk Board (ESRB).

Further information on the EBA is available on the EBA website: www.eba.europa.eu.

Under the overall responsibility of the Head of IT Unit, the successful candidate will play an important role in analysing requirements, defining details specifications and designing IT applications and backend solutions used by the EBA and the National Competent Authorities.

Main responsibilities:

In order to successfully fulfil its role, the candidate should be qualified and able to execute different technical tasks along the whole life-cycle of IT systems:

Business Modelling and Requirements

- Examine and study the existing business models, processes, and IT systems of the EBA;
- Support the customers in formulating the business case, following formal approach;
- Understand the expectations and high level requirements of the IT solution to be developed;
- Identify the stakeholders who will be involved/affected by the project;
- Gather requirements from the key stakeholders by using requirement elicitation techniques like brainstorming, requirement workshops, interviews, sessions, questionnaires or others;
- Validate requirements by cross-referencing them with other stakeholders and get a buy in; analyse and interpret requirements for their viability against the business case, and prioritize them with the business owners, considering the scope and schedule of the project;
- Document requirements by using adequate techniques for data and process modelling, and create business requirements documents (BRD).

Analysis and Design

- Prepare detailed functional and non-functional specifications, according to the defined business requirements and the technical constraints;
- Lead the application modelling process by using modelling techniques and notations (e.g. UML, BPMN, etc.);
- Lead the system design process, namely at the presentation layer level (user interface design);
- Participate in solution prototyping, for verification of specifications, error identification and getting an early feedback regarding the user interface;
- Document exceptions and how the system is expected to behave in different situations;
- Validate that the suggested design meets the business objectives and requirements.

Development and Testing

- Interface with the developers to understand and confirm the complete requirements and all the associated aspects (technical, functional and operational);
- Create test cases and assist the testing team in identifying testing scenarios, following standard testing methodologies;
- Test the applications by doing system testing, functional testing and application testing – ensuring the functional and technical compatibility of the product with the requirements;
- Provide options and recommendations for the developments of solutions in the context of issue management, problem management and change requests;
- Monitor the development of the project is in sync with the documented and approved technical and functional requirements;
- Present the interim solutions to the business owners and seek their approval and feedback.

Implementation and Support

- During the deployment on environments such as System Integration Testing, Business Accepting Testing and Pre-Prod, assist in the preparation of test data, configuration data and user accounts;
- Inspect the installed and configured systems, validate their functioning and look out for any flaws and errors (running sanity checks after each technical release);
- Prepare user manuals, tutorials, technical handouts and operational manuals for the deployed application/system;
- Train end users and make them comfortable with the new system;
- Aid in the maintenance of the deployed system along with operational support;
