

Anna Konstantiniou

Anna is a Legal Adviser and General Director of the Motor Insurers' Bureau of Greece. As such, she participates in the Board of Directors of the Bureau and in the Committees of the Council of Breaux in Brussels, for the implementation of the agreements regulating the system of international motor insurance. Her main field of expertise is the legal advice with regard to insurance, bankassurance and unit-linked products, channels of distribution, handling of claims, mergers and guidance for the compliance with national and EU regulatory framework. Previously, she was an external collaborator with the European Commission for the control of implementation in Greece of the EU directives relating to Insurance, UCITS, Securities and markets. She was a member of several law drafting committees in the insurance and securities domains. She is also a lecturer in the Hellenic Institute of Insurance Studies.